II. DEFINITIONS AND EXAMPLES OF SEXUAL HARASSMENT

1. Sexual harassment is defined under ‘The Sexual Harassment of Women at Workplace (Prevention, Prohibition and Redressal) Act, 2013’ (read with Sexual Harassment of Women at Workplace (Prevention, Prohibition and Redressal) Rules, 2013 (collectively, “the Act”) and this Policy as any conduct that is unwelcome and sexual in nature, whether direct or indirect, including
 - a. Physical contact and advances
 - b. A demand or request for sexual favours
 - c. Making sexually coloured remarks
 - d. Circulating obscene content by email, SMS or MMS
 - e. Showing pornography, or
 - f. Any other unwelcome physical, verbal or non-verbal conduct of a sexual nature.

When any such act or acts are committed in circumstances where such conduct is humiliating and is likely to constitute a health and safety problem, it will amount to sexual harassment that violates this Policy.

Sexual harassment may occur as a single incident or a series of incidents. The following circumstances, among other circumstances, if they occur or are present in relation to or connected with any act or behaviour of sexual harassment may amount to sexual harassment:

- a. Implied or explicit promise of preferential treatment in employment
- b. Implied or explicit threat of detrimental treatment in employment
- c. Implied or explicit threat about the present or future employment status
- d. Interference with work or creating an intimidating or offensive or hostile work environment

Sexual harassment may be of two kinds: (1) indirect, also referred to as a “hostile work environment” and (2) direct, also referred to as a “quid pro quo”.

The indirect form of sexual harassment is one or more instances of unwelcome conduct that, taken individually or together, have the purpose or effect of (i) creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive work environment, and (ii) unreasonably interfering with another’s work performance. Examples of this type of sexual harassment include pornography in public places, foul language or joking of a sexual nature. This form of sexual harassment does not need to be directed at any employee in particular.
 - b. Sexual harassment by one in a position of power or influence constitutes direct, or quid pro quo, sexual harassment when (i) submission by an individual is made either an explicit or implicit term or condition of employment, or (ii) submission to or rejection of such conduct is used as the basis for employment decisions affecting that employee such as promotions, demotions, salary raises, hiring or termination.
2. This policy applies to all categories of Employees of the Company, including any person employed on regular, temporary, ad hoc or daily wage basis, either directly or through an agent, including a contractor, with/without the knowledge of the principal employer, whether for remuneration or not, or working on a voluntary basis or otherwise, whether the terms of employment are express or implied and includes a co-worker, a contract worker, probationer, trainee, apprentice or called by any other such name, at the workplace.
